“You, son of man, I have appointed watchman for the house of Israel...”
(Ezekiel 33:7)

Many of us are generous with our gifts. However, many of us are not generous in proportion to the gifts we have been given. How often do we give at the minimum level required? Remember, the Lord calls us to nurture and develop our gifts. He calls us to be generous with all the gifts He has given us, especially the one that means the most to us.

LOVE, THE FULFILLMENT OF THE LAW

It is easier to say "I love you" to a person than really loving the person. Love does not conceive evil against anyone. Love, we are told is kind, compassionate, generous and gentle. Love doesn't harbor grudge and it is forgiving. And so he who loves must possess the attributes of love. Wherefore a person exhibits the attributes of love, he fulfills the commandments ( Rom 13:8-10)

Loving you doesn't mean I should praise you for everything you do. The genuineness of my love for you lies in my ability to reproach you if you go wrong and my readiness to forgive you if you does offend me. In love, we live and act as a watchman for each other's good in our effort to please God. I don't do you any good if I watch you to perish in sinning . I am your "son of man" and you are my "son of man" on our faith journey.(Ez 33:7-9)

We remain human no matter how strong our love for each other may be. We may agree and disagree at any point in time. In our disagreement we are likely to step on each other's toe. Conflict from disagreement is part of our social life and out of conflict comes good things and best way to relate. This is visible when we settle our differences by forgiving one another. For love's sake, Jesus teaches us how to settle all disputes (Mt 18:15-20). Let us pray for grace to love genuinely and be ready to accept our faults to be forgiven. Peace!
